

Institute for Nonprofit Administration & Research

The Institute for Nonprofit Administration & Research at Louisiana State University in Shreveport seeks applicants for a tenure-track Associate Professor to serve as the Director of the Master of Science in Nonprofit Administration program and Executive Director of the Institute for Nonprofit Administration and Research.

LSUS Institute for Nonprofit Administration & Research

The Institute for Nonprofit Administration and Research (INAR) at LSUS is the only nonprofit center of its kind in the state of Louisiana. Its mission is to conduct research and disseminate knowledge about nonprofit organizations and social research. The Masters in Nonprofit Administration (MSNPA) is a 100% online program that serves as a catalyst in the Shreveport-Bossier community, Louisiana state, and nation-wide to provide the nonprofit sector with compassionate leaders with the skillsets necessary to manage successful nonprofit organizations and programs. The MSNPA is the only program of its kind regionally but has excelled as one of the top online nonprofit programs available nationwide. INAR also offers undergraduate and noncredit nonprofit programs as well as research and analysis for nonprofits, state agencies, and businesses. LSUS is located in Shreveport, the third-largest city in Louisiana with a population of 200,000 not including 200,000 in Bossier City which borders the Red River. Shreveport is positioned in the upper-west corner of the state bordering Texas and Arkansas. Shreveport is rich in diversity, arts, agriculture, and southern hospitality. For more information about LSUS and Shreveport, interested candidates can learn more at www.lsus.edu and www.shreveport-bossier.org.

Director of the Masters in Nonprofit Administration & Executive Director of INAR

The Director of the MSNPA program is a 9-month position, teaching 2 courses per semester with the option to teach 1 summer course. The Director will oversee program operations including faculty and curriculum management and student advising. The Director will serve as a liaison to the community by connecting students to nonprofit organizations for internship and job opportunities. The Director will represent the program at national organization membership meetings and seek opportunities within those organizations for grants and research. The Director will also seek new and innovative opportunities to expand the MSNPA program including but not limited to a Bachelor's in Nonprofit Administration program and align the MSNPA program with accreditation standards. This position also comes with an Endowed Professorship. The position of Director of the MSNPA program also comes with the esteemed position of Executive Director of the Institute for Nonprofit Administration and Research. The Executive Director oversees business operations and community relations of INAR. The Executive Director will market INAR's academic programs and research services to the community and seek new relationships to expand its mission in addition to align INAR with the LSUS Strategic Plan.

Qualifications

The successful candidate must have a terminal degree in Nonprofit Management, Administration, or Leadership or have a Ph.D. with a concentration in Nonprofit Studies.

The successful candidate must have a track record of publications.

The successful candidate must have a demonstrated ability to teach in an online platform as well as classroom teaching.

Experience working as a professional in a nonprofit organization is a plus but not required.

The successful candidate should have extensive knowledge and expertise about nonprofit management and organizations.

LSUS is committed to diversity and is an equal opportunity/equal access employer.

The successful candidate should have a demonstrated record of high quality research and successful academic instruction.

Apply

Qualified applicants should submit a cover letter, CV, and 3 references to stacey.hargis@lsus.edu.

Salary

$60,000