

Assistant Professor in Mass Communication
9-Month Tenure-Track Position

The Department of Arts and Media invites applications for a tenure-track Assistant Professor in Mass Communication with an interest in new and social media to begin August 16, 2017.

The successful candidate will teach courses in one or more of our concentration areas in public relations, journalism, and electronic media based on needs and expertise. Other responsibilities will include research, service, and advising. Experience in online course delivery and an emphasis on innovative teaching are important in addition to an interest in program assessment, curriculum development and service learning/community based research.

Required: Ph.D. in mass communication; ability to teach both undergraduate and graduate level courses in both face-to-face and online settings.

Application Deadline: December 15, 2016

Application Procedures: Submit cover letter, CV, three letters of recommendation, and a sample syllabus online to masscommunications@lsus.edu.

Louisiana State University in Shreveport is the public senior university serving the Shreveport/Bossier Metropolitan area and the Ark-La-Tex. At all levels of instruction, LSUS maintains high academic standards and emphasizes personal interaction between students and qualified, experienced faculty.

LSUS is committed to diversity and is an equal opportunity / equal access employer.